DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

➤ The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claims 11-20 have been renumbered 28-36.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

➤ The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

➤ Claims 1-10 and 28-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Yamamoto Tetsuhiro (JP 10-092865).

Regarding claims 1, 5 and 33, Yamamoto Tetsuhiro teaches a semiconductor device (see entire disclosure) comprising an electrode pad (13), a stress cushioning layer (17), a lead wire (14), external electrodes (11), and a conductor protective layer (10) (see Figs. 1-2).

Regarding claims 2, 6, 9 and 34, Yamamoto Tetsuhiro teaches that said end face of said conductor protective layer (10) is formed inside said end face of said stress cushioning layer (17) (see Fig. 2).

Regarding claims 3, 7, 8 and 35, Yamamoto Tetsuhiro teaches that said end face of said conductor protective layer (10) is formed outside said end face of said stress cushioning layer (17) (see Figs. 2 and 11-12).

Regarding claims 4, 10 and 36, Yamamoto Tetsuhiro teaches that an area of said stress cushioning layer (17) is formed as to become tapered and thinner toward said end face of said stress cushioning layer (see Figs. 2-3, 8-9 and 12).

Regarding claims 28-32, Yamamoto Tetsuhiro teaches that said stress cushioning layer (17) is comprised of polyimide material (see abstract).

Response to Arguments

➤ Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-10 and 28-36 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

➤ Applicant's submission of an information disclosure statement under 37 CFR 1.97(c) with the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(p) on March 27, 2002 prompted the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 609(B)(2)(i). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
